

BEST CSUS COLLEAGUES OF SPRING 2020

During this time in which CSUS faculty and staff are working from home, we all miss our human colleagues and friends. However, through our online meetings, we have been able to meet some new (often fuzzier) friends who have been helping their humans do their jobs. Here are some of the adorable CSUS colleagues who we've been meeting over the past few weeks.

Beardsley, the Bearded Dragon

"He isn't great with the math, but he is great at finding the bugs in the formulas....."

Owner: Kris Hasenfratz Ten-Eyck, Grants Manager

Toohey, the Catahoula Leopard Dog

"She's 14 years-old and sits next to my new workspace where I now spend about 12 hours a day!"

Owner: Robert Richardson, Professor

Luna, 100% good dog

"Luna sometimes joins me for class and zoom calls, but only when I'm done talking about carbon pricing..."

Owner: Doug Basette, Assistant Professor

Montgomery, human cuddler extraordinaire

Monty for short. Will never let your lap get cold. Keeper of the calendars.

Owner: Steven Gray, Associate Professor

Charlie and Nora, Yellow Lab and human

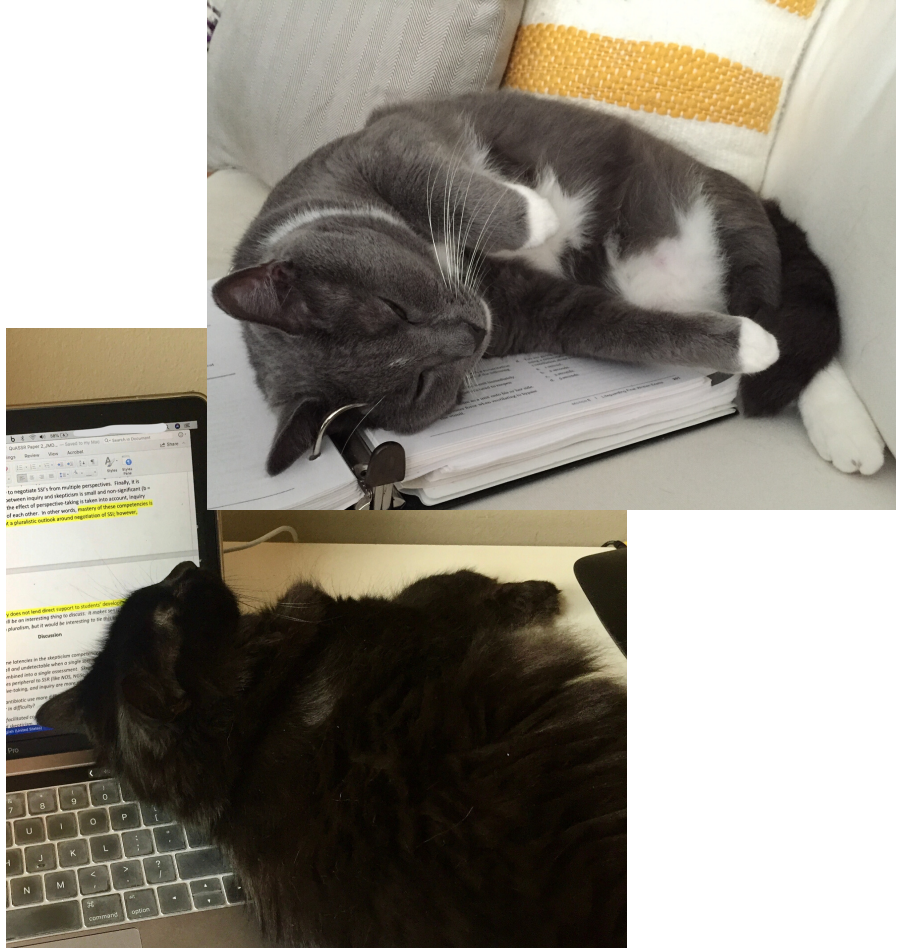

Here for the cuddles and games. Always ready for a good Zoom meeting.

Owner: Crystal Eustice, Assistant Professor of Practice

Morrie and Whitney, research and writing supervisors

Excellent paper weights, 10/10 manuscript feedback.

Owner: Amanda Sorensen, Communication and Outreach Specialist

Shelburn, handsome old hound

His friends call him Shelby. Nailing his work from home set up, complete with some Spartan swag.

Owner: Rebecca Jordan, Department Chairperson
