

Michigan is the third largest producer of apples in the US.

Naturally fat-free, apples are also rich in fiber and antioxidants.

Apples make up more than half of the total fruit grown in Michigan.